STEVE IVY RARE COIN CO.

Dear Customer:

A funny thing happened on the way to April, we didn't put out our March Price List. March was our best and busiest month ever with sales exceeding the one million dollar mark for the first time. This is up five times from last March. To say that business is good would be a great understatement. It seems that non-collectors outnumber the collectors in the chase for rare coins. With inflation showing all the signs of continuing its present rate, more and more people are looking for ways to invest their cheap dollars before they lose even more value to inflation.

We have been fortunate in acquiring several nice collections in the past sixty days, most of which are in this Price List. Please order quickly and call on any order over $100.00 (1-800-527-4503). Most items will be sold in a matter of days,

Sincerely,

Steve Ivy and Staff

HOW RARE IS IT?

PART V

WALTER BREEN

Despite the great reputation of a few dates like 1871 S, the few mintmarked half dimes which qualify as rare in mint state are neglected. The 1838-O is easily a $500 coin in that condition, fewer than five being located with any claim to mint state. 1840-O with drapery is scarce in all grades, and it is nearly as rare as '38 O in even AU; I cannot now recall over two with any reasonable claim to unc. All of the O mint dates prior to 1853 with arrows are rare in mint state, the highly touted 1842 and 1848-O's least so. Of the 1853-O, there are three prooflike gems, one of which brought $1,000 over four years ago in one of Lester Merkin's sales. The S mints, 1863-71, are all rare in unc., and the majority of circulated examples in the sixties show signs of having been used as buttons (shanks removed from reverses).

Among the dimes, 1796 is generally available even in unc. for a price; many were saved as first year of issue. Other dates, 1797-1807, are less often seen choice, the comments in the April, 1966 Lester Merkin Auction still holding true; some dates, such as 1797 13 stars, 1798/7 13 reverse stars, 1801/2/3 and 1804 13 stars, are for all practical purposes unobtainable in mint state, though of these only the 1798/7 with 13 stars and 1804 13 stars are great rarities in more worn conditions. Most of the better 1807's are misgraded, as they are almost always very weakly brought up owing to heavy die clash marks.

The Red Book lists the 1814 small date only at equal price with the large, though it is twenty times rarer. The 1828 large date is a very rare coin anywhere near mint state, as is the 1829 with largest 10 C. (filling space between border and eagle). To date, only about 4 or 5 1830/29 coins are reported; I found the first two and placed them in auctions during the 1960's, letting them find their own level. It was up to a California promoter of overdates to get them listed in the Red Book. At the 1971 and '72 A.N.A. Conventions, I was several times asked to examine particular 1830's, but none of those turned out to be overdates. Remember to look for lower r. serif of 2 and part of its base at right bottom of 3, and look for the traces of knob within zero. There is also an 1829 with small over large 10 C.; look for the round zero punched over a taller oval one. I have seen one and heard of two others to date.

The rarities in the Liberty Seated type, grading aside, include the 1841 "no drapery" from a drastically lapped (repolished) die; of four specimens reported, one is a proof and the others are circulated former proofs. The 1844 has been greatly exaggerated in rarity and hoarded. Free of such attentions, the rarer 1846 remains neglected. Early S mints, 1856-74, are extremely difficult to find uncirculated, though most of them are available worn for a price. A few O mints, such as 1843 and 1845, unknown in mint state for years, have suddenly come into their own with discovery of one or two choice examples; 1860-O similarly, but now there are apparently three uncs. known, which have sold well into four figures. Of the 1853 without arrows, there is a tiny group of uncs., apparently saved with the half dimes and quarters by H.P. Newlin, but long since dispersed; the date is rare above VF.

Two dates which have attracted speculator attention of late are 1866 and 1867, with low mintages of business strikes. As they are generally available in proof, the tendency has been to sell the rare first strikes as proofs for those extra few dollars.

The earlier CC mints, say 1871 to 1874, are prohibitively rare in unc., and for reasons unknown the entire mintage of 1873 CC without arrows disappeared except for one of the coins shipped to Philadelphia for the annual assay--believed rescued by A. Loudon Snowden, as it was in his possession years afterwards, eventually passing to J.W. Haseltine, William H. Woodin, Adolphe Menjou and Louis Eliasberg.

Of the later rarities, the whole story will probably never be known. Why, for instance, were so few 1885 S dimes made? Several dozen survive, but I have no record of a fully unc. example. On the other hand, the 24 1984S dimes were made from two obverse dies and one reverse, differing minutely in position of date, and all 7 of the survivors are brilliant proofs with the exception of one that was recovered from circulation and last noticed in Kagin's hands. One of the proofs was sold to an investment firm at the 1972 A.N.A. Convention, for a reported $50,000.00. This is well over tripling any previous record of sale. But why only 24, and why were two obverse dies used to make them?

The other rarity in the Barber series, 1893/92, apparently comes from two different obverse dies, both of which must have been lapped to efface the traces of 2; to date fewer than eight are reported. A possible third overdate is found in proof. This has heavy die file marks at the 3, apparently to efface an unwanted 2. It was discovered by Ed Piontkowski. More 1893/2 coins are reported, but examination of most of them to date has led only to nicks, discoloration or an occasional recut date. Later rarities are few indeed: the 1916 in matte proof, and possibly, the 1942/41 D in strictly mint mint state with a clear 1 at left of 2. All four I have seen of the Denver overdates show only fragments of top and bottom of the 1, probably from die lapping obliterating the rest; none of these is fully uncirculated. I am not sure that even four matte proofs can be traced of the 1916.
